1. Oh, say can you see by the dawn's ear-ly light, What so
2. On the shore dim-ly seen thro' the mist of the deep, Where the proud-ly we haild at the twi-light's last gleaming, Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the foe's haughty host in dread si-lence re-po-ses, What is that which the breeze, o'er the per-i-lous fight, O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallant-ly streaming; And the tow-er-ing steep, As it fitful-ly blows, half con-ceals, half dis-clo-ses! Now it free and the home of the brave.

3

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
 'Mid the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
 A home and a country they'd leave us no more!
 Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps pollution;
 No refuge could save the hireling and slave,
 From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave,
 And the star spangled banner in triumph doth wave,
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.
 (Chorus.)

4

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand,
 Between their loved home and the war's desolation;
 Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven rescued land,
 Praise the power that made and preserved us a nation,
 Then conquer we must, when our cause It is just,
 And this be our motto, "In God is our trust"
 And the star spangled banner in triumph shall wave,
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.
 (Chorus.)
